

The figure displays a topographic map of the scalp, showing the distribution of 100 electrodes used in the study. The electrodes are arranged in a circular layout, with labels indicating their positions. The map is color-coded, with yellow indicating higher density and green indicating lower density. Red lines connect the electrodes to their corresponding labels.

Correlation Matrix — C23 | last 60s | 100Hz

Electrical Distance Distribution — C23

